

Maintaining A Strong Marriage

While Parenting Special Needs Children

Hosted by North Allegheny Special Education
PARENT NETWORKING GROUP

Thursday, November 9
6:30-8:30 pm • Bariel Center

Weathering the challenges of life and keeping a marriage alive takes two people working together. When faced with the added pressures of a raising a child with special needs it can be overwhelming. Join Anchorpoint's Parent Education Director and Social Worker, Mandy Jabour, LSW, as she leads a discussion on effective strategies to help couples stay connected.

More information about this workshop or the North Allegheny Special Education Group (PNG):
Facebook: North Allegheny Special Education Parent Group (PNG)
Website: <http://www.nasepng.org> • Email: nasepng1@yahoo.com

The PNG supports parents of children with IEP's, 504's, speech services, and learning differences by providing topical speakers and a place to network with other parents.

The PNG, a nonprofit parent organization, is not endorsed by the North Allegheny School District.

800 McKnight Park Drive, Suite 802 • Pittsburgh, PA 15237
www.AnchorpointCounselingMinistry.org • 412 -366-1300

Professional Counseling for couples, families and individuals,
Support Group Therapy, Preventative Educational Workshops,
Private Parent Coaching • Tutoring/mentoring